Counting resumes tomorrow

Counting in the 2020 Territory Election will resume tomorrow at both the Darwin and Alice Springs Scrutiny Centres.

Following the review of declaration vote determination today, a total of 1,777 declaration votes have been admitted to the count.

Counting in Darwin will start at 10am and 9am in Alice Springs.

In Darwin postal votes that have been returned will also be counted for all Top End electorates, except Spillett and Wanguri due to the small numbers on hand.

In Alice Springs declaration votes for the divisions of Araluen, Barkly, Braitling, Gwoja and Namatjira will be counted.

On Wednesday a recount of all seats with a margin of less than 100 votes will be undertaken.

The updated results will be available on the NTEC website.

Attached is a table showing the number of declaration votes admitted and to be counted by division and the number of postal votes still to be counted and the number still to be returned.
