1. Remote voting

Remote voting begins tomorrow, Wednesday 17 August.

Mobile voting teams will travel to over a 170 locations to provide remote Territorians an opportunity to vote in the Territory election.

Schedules for mobile voting teams can be found at ntec.nt.gov.au and have been widely advertised in local newspapers. They are also displayed on posters in key community locations. Mobile technology is being employed to inform remote voters details of voting in their community by sending an SMS.

A digital interpreter product, translated into 13 indigenous languages, has been developed to inform voters of the optional preferential voting system. This product is shown using a tablet and will be used if voters are unsure how to cast a formal vote. To view this product, visit our YouTube page.

2. Changes to remote voting schedule
