Political parties must appoint an agent to act on their behalf regarding disclosure matters. An agent of a party is not an agent of a candidate unless separately appointed as such.

Eligibility for appointment

To be appointed as an agent a person must:

- be at least 18 years of age
- not have been convicted of an offence under the disclosure provisions of the Electoral Act.

Appointment

- The appointment as an agent for a party must be signed by the party secretary.
- A person may accept multiple appointments but each appointment must be made separately.
- A corporation cannot be appointed as agent.

Responsibilities of agents

The agent is responsible for lodging disclosure returns of receipts, liabilities and expenditure on behalf of the party. There are significant penalties for failure to comply with the disclosure requirements of the Electoral Act.

Parties should refer to the disclosure handbook to assist in complying with disclosure requirements.

Termination

An appointment remains in force until the NT Electoral Commission is advised of its termination by the agent, or by the party secretary. Where no appointment is in force, the registered officer of the party is taken to be its reporting agent.
